

Journaling Jaunt Preparation Ideas from Di

As a warm up, I can recommend a wonderful book by Liz Steel that's in the Tasmanian library called Five Minute sketching: Architecture. Also available on Amazon for around $30. It covers handling a range of materials, apart from watercolour, looks at composition, perspective, easy measuring, light and dark, tonal values, simplifying and heaps of other useful stuff presented in easily absorbed chunks. Her website also covers a vast amount of sketching information: lizsteel.com

I subscribe free to her excellent email blog and monthly newsletter.

Liz is Sydney based, well known in the urban sketching community and has previously undertaken sketching tours in Launceston.

In Hobart there is an Urban Sketchers Group. Here is a link to their Facebook page.
